DEDICATION

Because of his untiring efforts for the benefit of THE BAGPIPE, his unselfish attitude, his good humor, and his willingness to help students in problems, mathematical or personal, we, the staff of THE BAGPIPE, sincerely dedicate this book to Professor William A. Parker, friend to all, without whose help this publication would have been difficult.

We Saw and Took Part In...

THE YEAR'S EVENTS

We will always remember this. The freshmen arrived September fourth and the sophomores a few days later. We were all wondering whether we were going to like college life or not. New friends came to us thick and fast, and before we were even settled in our rooms we knew most of the so-called "characters" around the dorm. Registering and buying books gave us the opportunity to meet the office staff and get some idea how the office was run. The Presbyterian Church party introduced the people of Maxton to us. Enthusiasm ran high as the football season opened. With the help of Uncle Sam our football season wasn't too good, but we were able to close it with a win over E. M. I. The cafeteria was completed and dedicated. We were all glad to see Dr. and Mrs. Thornwell back for the dedication. Homecoming was the time for the big parade, student-alumni basketball game, and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. Everyone was sorry to see Coach Doak leave during basketball; however, the team was taken under the capable wings of Wiley Steed and later Coach Kinlaw. The tears began to flow as exams started, and Darling began rubbing his hands together. Having lived through this ordeal, we all eagerly awaited the second semester, which saw the beginning of intramural basketball and the arrival of many new students. Time passed and then Coach started getting his boys together to get the "kinks" out for baseball. The Junior-Senior brought to a close the year's activities, and before we knew it, final exams and graduation were upon us. A few of the "lucky ones" left with diplomas.

DR. LOUIS C. LAMOTTE

President

Faculty

We met the men and women who were to be our guides for the next two years. We found them to be experts in their fields and loved by all.

LOUIS C. LAMOTTE, MA., TH.D., D.D.

Dr. LaMotte became president of Presbyterian Junior College in 1938, and since that time has devoted his entire ability to building a better institution for Christian men. One needs only to look at his record for ample proof as to his ability as an administrator. His door is always open to any student with a problem—whether it be related to his school life or to personal problems. His "Hello, men" shows his real interest and nearness to the boys.

ROBERT L. WHARTON, A.B., B.D., D.D.

Dr. Wharton holds the position of college chaplain and head of the Bible Department. He has had a lifetime of experience in teaching the Bible, yet he displays a vibrant, youthful, enthusiasm for his favorite subject. In class he gives us an insight into the profound truths of Christianity, and in his chapel services he leads us to the real worship that is the guiding principle of his own life. Besides his duties as Bible professor, Dr. Wharton also teaches Spanish.

CLIFFORD L. HORNADAY, A.B., M.A., Ph.D.

Dr. Hornaday came "Home" to Maxton last year to write, and we are very fortunate to have him as an English instructor. He shares with us his rich experiences and mature philosophy resulting from his studying and teaching in European universities.

OTTO WALTER FERRENE, B.S., M.A.

Mr. Ferrere, leading a triple life as Registrar, Dean of Instruction, and head of the Science Department, has one of the biggest jobs in the Administration, but he handles them as only a man of his caliber could. Mr. Ferrere has been on the faculty of P. J. C. for 20 years, longer than any other professor. His students hold him in high esteem and will always remember him as the man who could assign the impossible and teach them how to easily do it.

FLOYD E. JAMES, A.B., M.A.

As Dean of Students Mr. James probably has more responsibility than any other member of the Administration. It is his duty to maintain order on the campus and to guide student government. His willingness to help in any situation and his friendliness make Mr. James one of the best-liked men on the campus.

CRABTREE

JOHN W. CRABTREE, JR., A.B., M.A.

Mr. Crabtree came to us last summer after completing his M.A. degree at U. N. C. He was given the job of filling the vacated shoes of Dr. Thornwell as Dean of the Preparatory Department, something the students thought impossible, but Mr. Crabtree has done an exceptionally good job and as a result has won the respect of the students. Besides his duties as Dean he serves as instructor in English and social science and also as advisor for the Sandspur.

WILLIAM R. PARKER, A.B., M.A.

Mr. Parker acts as instructor in math and physics. He is a capable instructor, and reveals his wealth of experience in his lectures and laboratory classes. Mr. Parker founded and is the advisor for the Photography Club. The Bagpipe owes him sincere thanks for all the photographs in this yearbook.

RAYMOND R. DAWSON, A.B., M.A.

Mr. Dawson, a new addition to our faculty, is head of the Social Science Department. His assignments are lengthy and his test impossible, but students flock to his courses and come away with a lasting knowledge of economics and history.

CLAUDE L. DARLING II, A.B.

As head of the English Department, Mr. Darling assumes the task of teaching us everything from parts of speech to what color ink Burns used in writing "To A Louse". He has directed the Radio Club in its expanded work and is advisor for the Bagpipe. "Mr. D", as he is known to the students, is a friend to all and takes part in most student activities from the Bagpipe to kite flying.

ROBERT R. DOAK, B.S.

Coach Doak was not able to be with us beyond the first semester this year, but he will always be remembered for his spirit and determination to spur his teams on to impossible achievements. He has earned for himself the lasting affection of his "Scotties".

J. FRANK LIGON, B.A., M.A., B.D., D.D.

Dr. Ligon came to us last year to help in the over-loaded Bible Department and filled his position so well that he was asked to resume his teaching this year. Besides his duties as Bible professor for Presbyterian Junior College, he also serves as full-time pastor of the McColl, South Carolina, Presbyterian Church.

MILTON A. REILLY, B.S., M.A.

Mr. Reilly holds the "catch-all" position as Business Manager. His numerous duties vary from struggling with the budget to planting pine trees and fighting fires, but he performs his task with diligence and efficiency. Besides this position he acts as an instructor in the Business Department. Although much of his work is behind the scenes, Mr. Reilly fills a difficult and important position in the life of Presbyterian Junior College.

JOHN W. WELKER, B.S., M.A.

Mr. Welker heads the Department of Modern Languages, is instructor in psychology, and is in charge of the student testing and counseling program. Although this is his first year at P. J. C., he has won the title of being the hardest professor on the campus, but he is one of the best liked.

MISS PEARL C. MOTLEY, B.S., B.S. in L.S.

Miss Motley became Librarian of Presbyterian Junior College upon the resignation of Miss Beulah Haynes. She has successfully done her work and is well liked by all.

MRS. LOUIS C. LaMOTTE, A.B., M.A.

Mrs. LaMotte, as Assistant Registrar, is in charge of all the school records. Her friendly smile and pleasant words makes us feel at home at P. J. C. She is never too busy to take time to talk to any student who desires to have a conference with her. Mrs. LaMotte plays the piano for chapel exercises and cooperates willingly with the Sandspur and the Bagpipe.

MRS. JOE McCALLUM, A.B.

Mrs. McCallum acts as our dietitian. She has never failed to give us many good banquets although she has a strict budget. She prepares our food the same way we would get it at home and, by this means, has found the way to the hearts of the boys.

MRS. FLOYD E. JAMES

Mrs. James is a woman of many jobs. She acts as an aid to Mr. Reilly, keeps the school books, and takes care of the many problems that arise among the veterans. Besides her duties in the business office, Mrs. James acts as house mother for the residents of the dormitory.

MISS BEULAH HAYNES,
A.B., M.A., B.S. in L.S.

Miss Haynes came to P. J. C. as Librarian in the winter of 1949. She devoted her entire time and energy to the task of building up a library for young men. Through her influence both students and professors gained a new appreciation of the value of the college library. It was with deep regret that we saw her leave at Christmas to become Mrs. C. Howard Maury. We wish the best of everything for her and Rev. Maury.

MRS. ANN M. ROUSSEAU, B.S.

Mrs. Rousseau, whose job it is to teach us typing, shorthand, and accounting, is a good friend to all. When the boys have a problem that they feel only a woman would understand, they take it to Mrs. Rousseau because they know that her helpful guidance will be given.

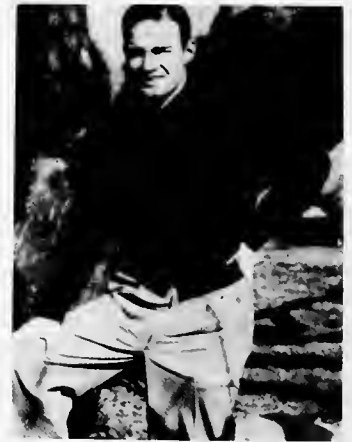

MRS. OTIS E. DANIELS

One of the first persons we met after we arrived on the campus was Mrs. Daniels. She is secretary to Dr. LaMotte, serves as receptionist to visitors to the campus, supervisor of student workers in the president's office, postal clerk, and the person everyone goes to when he wants to know something. She holds many jobs, but is efficient in all of them. Long will she be remembered for her winning personality and smile.

President of Sophomore Class

In selecting the Sophomores of the year the BAGPIPE had a difficult job. Every campus has its leaders—those who will accept the responsibility of hard work and try to the best of their ability to do a good job. Because of their contribution to the life of Presbyterian Junior College, the staff has chosen these men sophomores of the year.

Sophomores

The Sophomore class was reduced quite a bit by the call of our Uncle Sam. It was a good feeling to return this year and see the faces of last year's friends. We were the leaders of the campus, though some of the paths were not too straight. We were always willing to do our bit, so we were well rounded in our activities. William Johnson was elected president for our second year. Johnny Sloan was elected vice-president, with Hugh Stewart as secretary-treasurer. The "life" we have lived here at P. J. C. during our second year will always be one of our most cherished memories.

FRESHMEN

September, and a new year at P. J. C. had begun. It was not long before we knew it would be a good year with the talent the freshmen brought with them. The leaders of next year proved themselves to be of fine quality as they took to every activity with vigor and determination. Opponents of next year had better watch P. J. C. with all this promising material growing in experience this year. Officers to guide the class this year were: Tony Baker, President; Worth Dees, Vice-President; and Joseph Linens, Secretary-Treasurer. With such quality, the freshmen can easily fill the shoes of sophomores next year.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT

Elsie Senior High School provides for the boys whose parents desire for their sons to have thorough academic training under college instructors and with a distinctive Christian environment and emphasis.

The Preparatory Department also enables students who lack some of the requirements for college entrance to get these requirements while they are obtaining part of their college curriculum.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Government Council is the organ of representative self-government at Presbyterian Junior College. This council is held responsible for preserving the honor system and carrying out the constitution of the college. Students who do not abide by these rules are tried before the Student Council and just punishment is administered. The Student Body officers elected after a spirited campaign in the Spring of 1951 are: Guy Misenheimer, Jr., president; Emmett H. Morton, first

In the past year, this organization has tried to promote a sense of honor, duty, and self-control among the students. The officers have fulfilled their trust, keeping the respect of the faculty and the Student Body.

The Student Service Board is composed of the members of the Student Council, two representatives from the student body, and one representative from each of the student agencies, which include the student store, laundry, and coffee shop.

The purpose of this board is to aid the Business Manager in coordinating and improving services. This purpose has been accomplished in many ways. The members of the S. S. S. have played a vital part in keeping the student service agencies functioning smoothly and efficiently throughout the year.

STUDENT SERVICES

Seated: McCall, Morton, Misenheimer, Stephens
Standing: Sweat, Futch, Baker, Johnson.

Student Activity Board

The Student Activities Board is composed of representatives from each active organization on the campus together with the Student Body officers.

Its duties are to control, subject to the approval of the administration, the allotment of student activity funds and to make preparations for Homecoming, the various banquets, and all dances held on the campus.

Officers elected this year are: Foster Edwards, chairman; and Joe Elliott, secretary-treasurer. These officers and members deserve a great deal of credit for the success of the activities carried on under their supervision.

Seated: McCall, Morton, Edwards, Misenheimer, Stephens. Standing: Fountain, Mayers, Tolar, Spurrier, Fitch, Johnson, Waymack, Baker, Paden, Brock, Stephenson. Sw eat.

Grissom, Waymack, McDaniel, Sweat, Brock, Patterson, Greene, Comer, Stephenson, Allen.

The Student Christian Association

Through the S. C. A. meetings, chapel programs held once a week by the students, and dorm services held three nights a week, the students try to stress the importance of Christ in one's life. These opportunities are great experiences for young men.

The most important and most stressed activity of the S. C. A. is Religious Emphasis Week. This year Rev. J. B. Fecklen, III, from Charlotte, was the speaker.

The Student Christian Association, as any other P. J. C. organization, is run by the students and welcomes all who wish to take part. It is composed of not only ministerial students but also non-ministerial students.

Its president, Richard Waymack, was elected by the student body and he in turn appointed a vice-president and sec.-treasurer, George Grissom and Fred McDaniel, Jr., respectively.

RICHARD WAYMACK

The BAGPIPE

Year after year the BAGPIPE has sought to present to the students of Presbyterian Junior College a pictorial review of the year's activity on the campus. The staff of the 1952 BAGPIPE hopes it has done this in a complete coverage and in a pleasing way.

This year's publication could not have been possible without the guidance of Mr. Darling, the advisor, and the willing, untiring help of Mr. Parker.

The members of this year's staff are: Doster Brock, Jr., Editor; George Grissom, Business Manager; and Jim Fields, Advertising Manager. Foster Edwards has been truly a great help to the staff this year. Many thanks to him.

To all who helped we say, "Thanks"; to those who read and gaze upon the material between these covers, "May it remind you of the best years of your lives".

The SANDSPUR Reported Activities

For the past four years, the students of Presbyterian Junior College have published a college paper for the Alumni Association. THE SANDSPUR reports student activities, editorials, sports, feature stories, alumni news, and other items of interest.

The purpose of THE SANDSPUR is two-fold. Its first purpose is to maintain a high level of school spirit and its second purpose is to furnish news for the alumni. THE SANDSPUR also sponsors the Homecoming Queen Contest. This year's Queen was Mrs. Amogene Head, a student at Presbyterian Junior College, from Alma, Georgia.

The staff of THE SANDSPUR has tried to make the paper an independent organization through the sale of advertisements. This year's staff has nearly achieved this goal and is leaving the finishing of this project to next year's staff. Mrs. Ann M. Rousseau and Mr. John W. Crabtree are this year's advisors.

The 1952 BAGPIPE

"Chuck" Mayers
President of Block P

Letter winners in every one of the three sports participated in by Presbyterian Junior College are represented in the Block "P" Club.

The purpose of this club is to create a lasting interest in athletics and to urge all potential material to try out for teams.

The officers elected this year are: Chuck Mayers, president; Johnny Sloan, vice-president; and Brantley Vann, secretary-treasurer. Under the direction of these able officers the club has gained further recognition as being one of the most powerful and best organized clubs on the campus.

The club sells soft drinks and crackers at the ball games. The money realized from this enterprise is used to help defray the cost of the social events held by the club during the year. The biggest social event of the club was a beach party held the week after school closed.

The BLOCK P CLUB

Every student enrolled in Presbyterian Junior College is a member of the Athletic Association. Its purpose is to promote interest in athletics on the campus of P. J. C. and to assist the Athletic Department in all its phases of work with the students. Officers elected by the student body are: Frank Spurrier, president; Anthony Baker, vice-president; and Charles Sweat, secretary-treasurer.

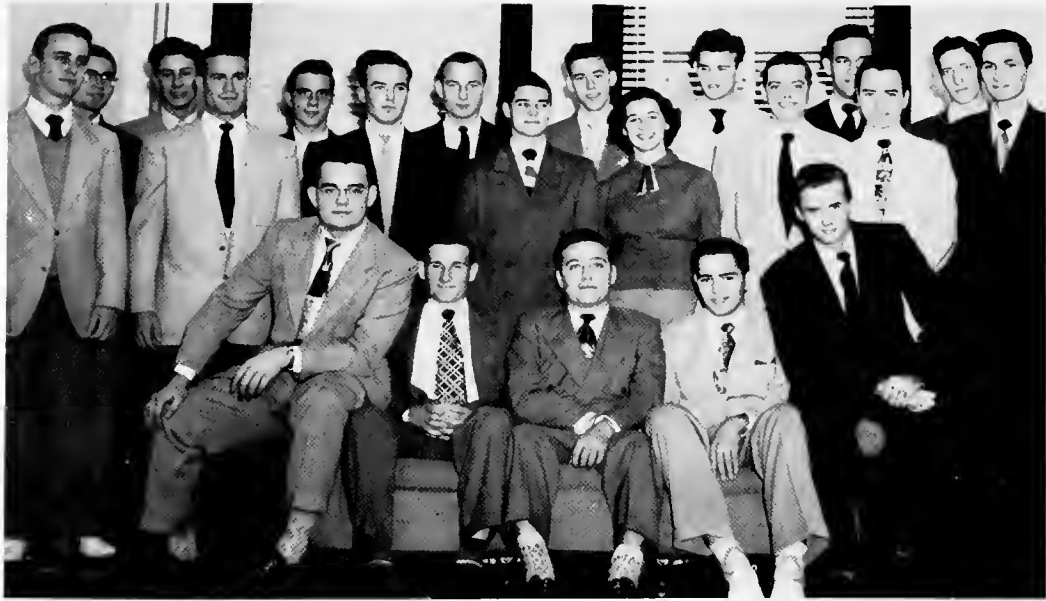

The association has done much to aid Coach Doak and Coach Kinlaw in getting beds made for visiting teams, advertising home games, and helping to build up spirit among the student body. The Athletic Association has made notable progress this year and has shown the need for this type of organization on our campus.

The ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Radio Club, although it hasn't appeared to be very active, has accomplished a great deal this year. Through the tireless efforts of "Pop" Paden and a few others, the control room of W.P.J.C., our college radio station, has been completely remodeled. Tile, donated and installed by George Carter, was added, and a beautiful console-desk was built by "Pop" Paden.

Prof. C. L. Darling with wonderful cooperation from the Business Manager, Mr. Reilly, has been instrumental in raising funds for the Radio Club and so far we have purchased two professional turntables and tone-arms. We are still working toward a console, which, when installed, will not only add considerably to the remote facilities of W.P.J.C. but will also modernize the control room. We hope to procure a console sometime in the near future.

As you probably know, the Radio Club, this year is taking a long-range view concerning the operation and maintenance of our radio station. Equipment is being installed which will enable the station to expand from year to year; and although the station is not yet ON THE AIR, nevertheless when it does go into operation, we can well expect a beneficial, efficient and growing broadcast service as well as broadcast experience to the students of P. J. C. We will operate on carrier current again this year, but we hope that next year an FM transmitter can be purchased. We will then be operating under the authority of the F.C.C., in Washington, D. C. W.E.W.O. in Laurinburg has offered to run a remote line to the station so that programs can originate in our studios and be broadcast over a larger area than our transmitter would cover. With these possibilities in mind we can well say that W.P.J.C. will become one of the college's greatest assets. We intend to affiliate the station and its operation with the Physics and English Departments.

Officers of the Radio Club for 1951-1952 were as follows: Bill Stephens, president; Malcolm Clark, secretary-treasurer; Reese McInnis, vice-president; J. Worth Dees, Chief Engineer; and Dick Feagin, Head Announcer.

The 1952 BAGPIPE

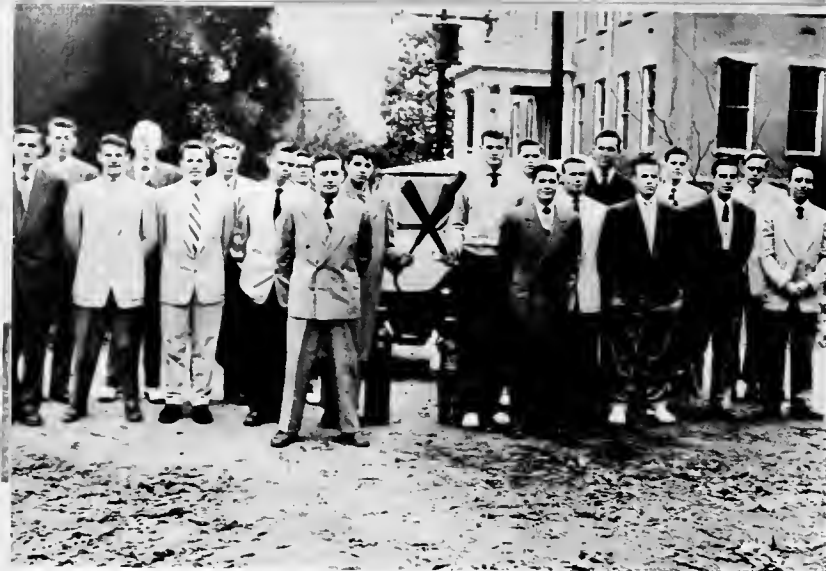

The Dramatics Club is usually one of the most popular organizations at Presbyterian Junior College. Each year the club strives to put on at least one three-act drama and several shorter plays. Their progress was hampered the first semester due to conflicts caused by athletics. Members are now preparing to present a play near the end of the semester. Mr. Claude Darling, II, acted as advisor for this year's group.

The Volunteer Fire Department is a new organization on our campus, but it is one of the most active. It was organized principally to rid our campus of fire hazards and to fight fires on the campus; however, it answers all fire calls with the Maxton Fire Department.

Through aid in several fires, its members have proved themselves capable of coping with any situation. Through their efforts considerable amounts of property have been saved.

The Volunteer Fire Department has added fire extinguishers to all floors of the administration building and dormitory, and has placed ash receivers at various places throughout the buildings. They have also succeeded in making the students "Fire-conscious".

These men should be commended for establishing a much safer and better organized campus. The Department is led by its chief, Bill Stephens, and its advisor, Mr. Milton A. Reilly.

The FIREMEN

The PHI THETA KAPPA

Zeta Upsilon chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honor fraternity, was established at P. J. C. in 1949. A student must have an average of 87 on a total of not less than fifteen academic hours, and must be able to meet the character and leadership requirements of the fraternity. Members returning from last year are Richard Feagin, president; and William Johnson, secretary-treasurer. Prof. Ferrene is the faculty advisor. A member must not only be the "brain" of the campus but must be outstanding in all the activities in which he participates.

The MINISTERIAL CLUB

Through membership in the Ministerial Club, the students studying for the ministry have an opportunity to gain experience in their future work by doing part-time Christian service. The members of this group teach Sunday School classes, lead in church and vesper services, and assist the churches in surrounding communities in many ways.

The club endeavors to bring the ministerial students together to form strong bonds of fellowship and friendship through their service.

The VETERANS CLUB

The Veterans Club was organized at P. J. C. in the fall of 1945. At one time it was the largest and most active organization on the campus. The fact that most veterans of World War II have gone higher than Jr. College status has greatly reduced its number. The membership this year is only 7, but these few still maintain an influential role at P. J. C. This year's officers are: Bill Stephens, president, and Tom Tyson, secretary-treasurer. The advisor for the Veterans Club is Mr. Raymond Dawson.

Since its organization, the main activity of the Veterans' Club has been the operation of the Coffee Shop in the Recreation Hall. The money realized from this enterprise is used for such social functions as the annual fish fry at Lumber River.

The club was not expected to survive this long, but the few veterans on the college campus have worked hard and held the club together. The club is looking forward to increased membership with the return of Korean veterans.

The PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Last year Mr. W. A. Parker realized that he could share his hobby with the student body in both a profitable and enjoyable club. The result is one of the most active and best organized clubs in our school.

Mr. Parker at the club meetings has discussed various stages of photography with the students. He has taught the boys everything from getting the correct proof to touching up a print.

The club took the old BAGPIPE room and converted it into a dark room. They have several new pieces of equipment, the most important addition being a new enlarger. Since the addition of the modern equipment, the dark room has become the meeting place of all the photography-minded students.

In two years the club has more than proved it worth. Its capable directors this year were: Jim Paden, president; Richard Waymack, vice-president; William O. Stephens, secretary; and Fred Fountain, treasurer.

The GLEE CLUB

Presbyterian Junior College's Glee Club had a very successful season. They presented an hour-long concert at Christmas, gave programs at various churches throughout the section, and furnished special numbers for civic groups. The club is under the direction of Miss Rebecca Dickson of Laurinbury High School with Miss Emily Love Robinson of Hasty, North Carolina, accompanist. Miss Dickson is ably assisted by the club officers: Dick Feagin, president; Robert Brooks, vice-president; and Fred McDaniel, secretary-treasurer.

The club this year received a great deal of publicity and was asked to make a recording which was played over various radio stations throughout the state.

THE 1952 SCOTTIES

The Scotties journeyed to North Greenville Junior College in South Carolina where they again outweighed but not outfought.

During the first quarter the Scots held the Spiders in their own backyard. Never did they penetrate P. J. C. territory.

In the second period the Spiders scored a well earned six-pointer, and the half ended 6-0.

The third period found both teams digging hard again. This time the Scots took the upper hand with Johnny plunging for the tally and Jim McCall adding the conversion.

Once more, the final quarter proved disastrous for the Calvinists. With fresh reserves doing everything well, the Spiders scored 20 points to hand P. J. C. its second defeat of the season, by a score of 26-7. Outstanding for the Presbyterians were Futch, McCall, Lower, and Baker.

The Scots opened the season on the wrong foot, being defeated by Mars Hills Lions 31-0. The score is by far no indication of the kind of ball game the Presbyterians played.

Outweighed at every position in the forward wall, and playing almost sixty minutes apiece, the boys just couldn't hold up. They held the Lions until the last quarter, allowing them to score only twice. The final period proved too much for the tired and battered Scotties. The Baptists pushed over 19 big points, despite the efforts of such men as Barber, Misenheimer, Mayers.

McCall Picks up eight against Chowan

The Scotties worked hard to win

The Scotties first home game was played at Red Springs against Chowan on a beautiful Saturday afternoon.

Capitalizing on two breaks early in the game, Chowan pushed over two quick touchdowns and added one conversion. From that time on both teams fought on even terms. The second quarter found both teams exchanging punts with neither gaining a decided edge. The half ended with the Scots trailing 13-0.

Playing inspired ball after the intermission, the "Doak-men" penetrated to the Chowan 9, but were unable to score. The rebut never going past the twenty yard stripe. The spectators were mainder of the contest saw both teams making gains around midfield but never going past the twenty yard stripe. The spectators were impressed by the play of Guy Misenheimer, Jim McCall, Jim Fields, and Tommy Robertson. Greatly missed were the services of Chuck Mayers, who received a fractured ankle at North Greenville.

Finally the Scotties broke the spell by defeating the Rams of Edwards Military Institute at Robbins Park in Red Springs.

P. J. C. received the opening kickoff and immediately drove to paydirt, with Mayers going over from the two. On the following kickoff Myatt recovered an E. M. I. fumble, and on the next play Misenheimer sliced over tackle for another marker. Following a pass interception the Scots sent Jim McCall fifty yards for a touchdown, but it was called back. After an exchange of punts, E. M. I. recovered a P. J. C. fumble and went on to score. The kick was blocked by Futch and the Scots lead 13-6. After moving the ball to the Ram's forty, Mayers broke loose down the sidelines to score. E. M. I. added 7 more points and the half ended with the "Doak-men" leading 20-13.

Early in the third quarter the Rams knotted the count at 20 all.

In the kickoff, Guy Misenheimer took the ball on his own thirty and went straight up the middle for another Scottie tally. McCall made good on his third conversion of the day.

A few plays later the Rams again scored but the kick was wide. The final period found both teams unable to score.

McCall's conversions were the decisive factor in this hard-fought ball game. Leading the Scotties to victory were Mayers, Misenheimer, Futch, and Myatt. The team won this one for the "old man's" birthday.

We owe a great deal to Coach Doak for the help he has given P. J. C. in Sports and Spirit. It was a great loss when he left us at Christmas.

After an uneventful football season, the "Scotties" plunged into a session of hard practice for the coming basketball season. Practice was fine; but after the Christmas holidays the routine of practice was interrupted by the resignation of Coach Doak to accept a position in Atlanta. The boys then had to mold themselves in with their new coach Wiley Steed, who had capabilities of doing a good job. The lettermen returning this year were Jim Fields, Guy Misenheimer, George Carter, K. D. Futch, and Bob Stone, but the team showed promise with such new-comers as Preston Barber, Bud Blue, Tony Baker, D. B. Parker, "Willie" Johnson, Malcolm Bethune, Bobby Stewart, and John Carter. Several non-conference games were played before Christmas to give valuable experience to the new members and to round off the rough edges before settling down to a full-scheduled season.

The 1952 BAGPIPE

At the beginning of the second semester Coach Charles Kinlaw joined Coach Steed. Together they worked with the team, and before the season was over they had the boys realizing the need for team play. Although the record of the 1951-52 basketball team is not too good, it is a team that P. J. C. will always be proud of because of the fine spirit and determination shown by each member.

BASEBALL

The Scotties will be led this year by a host of returning lettermen. These seven men are: Brock, Misenheimer, and Grissom as "chunkers"; Stone and Morton as infielders; and McDaniels, Sloan and Mayers in the outfield.

With the coming of warm weather, the 1952 Scotties took to the diamond with the anticipation of a winning year. Under the leadership of our new coach, Charles Kinlaw, a four varsity man at Wake Forest and experienced semi-pro player, and his capable managers, Billy Myatt and Frank Spurrier, the team go down to heavy practice on March 3.

The team this year will surely be strengthened with such outstanding candidates as: Mac Comer and Glenn Patterson who should give the returning pitching staff much competition for the first place spots. "The receiving position" will be well fortified with such men as Tommy Robertson, Robert Gillis, and "Country" McCall. The infield will be tightened by the addition of Harry Greene at the initial sack, Herbert Gibbs and Bobby Cochran at second, Joe Knox at the "hot corner", and Joe Linens who will be scooping them up at short. Dave Chittum, Harold Ross, Marion Vann, and "Mama" Clark will be vying for position in the outer garden.

The Scotsmen have been showing a lot of hustle and should roll to a high place in conference standing this year.

As graduates we remember many things; some big, some small. All students skim over their yearbook and look for the snapshots. There they find remembrances that will never be forgotten. You will not find these snapshots in any particular order; just scattered over the pages. Each one will bring back the good times we have had together at P. J. C. and through them we will all remain together in thought throughout the years ahead, even though we may be thousands of miles apart. May you always cherish this year of life at P. J. C.

A Note of Thanks...

IT is with a note of sincere appreciation to all those who have made the 1952 BAGPIPE a success that we wish to end our yearbook. Especially would we like to thank Mrs. LaMotte for her excellent job of proof-reading, Mrs. Rousseau and her typing class for the vast amount of typing they did, and Mr. W. A. Parker for the excellent photographs and snapshots he produced for us.

We hope you will enjoy your yearbook and remember those who worked hard to make it what it is.
